Douglas Alexander MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Douglas

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Amess MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Michael Ancram MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Michael

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Donald Anderson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Donald

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paddy Ashdown MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paddy

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Joe Ashton MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Joe

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Candy Atherton MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Candy

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Charlotte Atkins MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Charlotte

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Austin MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Joseph Benton MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Joseph

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Bercow MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paul Beresford MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paul

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Harold Best MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Harold

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Elizabeth Blackman MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Elizabeth

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Bob Blizzard MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Bob

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Richard Body MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Richard

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Timothy Boswell MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Timothy

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Peter Bottomley MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Peter

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Virginia Bottomley MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Virginia

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Graham Brady MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Graham

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Peter Brand MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Peter

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Julian Brazier MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Julian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Karen Buck MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Karen

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Richard Burden MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Richard

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Simon Burns MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Simon

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Christine Butler MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Christine

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Dennis Canavan MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Dennis

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Roger Casale MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Roger

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Martin Caton MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Martin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Sydney Chapman MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Sydney

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Michael Clapham MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Michael

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Alan Clark MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Alan

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paul Clark MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paul

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Clelland MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ann Clywd MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ann

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Vernon Coaker MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Vernon

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Harry Cohen MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Harry

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Iain Coleman MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Iain

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Tony Colman MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Tony

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Yvette Cooper MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Yvette

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Robin Corbett MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Robin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Partick Cormack MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Partick

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Brian Cotter MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Brian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ross Cranston MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ross

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Crausby MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Cummings MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Lawrie Cunliffe MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Lawrie

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

James Cunningham MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear James

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Curry MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Claire Curtis-Thomas MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Claire

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Cynog Dafis MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Cynog

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Quentin Davies MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Quentin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ron Davies MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ron

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Hilton Dawson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Hilton

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Janet Dean MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Janet

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Andrew Dismore MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Andrew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jim Dobbin MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jim

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jeffrey Donaldson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jeffrey

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Stephen Dorrell MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Stephen

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Drew MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Gwyneth Dunwoody MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Gwyneth

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Huw Edwards MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Huw

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Clive Efford MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Clive

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Louise Ellman MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Louise

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Peter Emery MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Peter

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jeff Ennis MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jeff

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Bill Etherington MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Bill

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Lorna Fitzsimons MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Lorna

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Howard Flight MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Howard

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Barbara Follett MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Barbara

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Derek Foster MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Derek

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Mike Gapes MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Mike

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Andrew George MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Andrew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Bruce George MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Bruce

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Neil Gerrard MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Neil

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Nick Gibb MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Nick

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ian Gibson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Christopher Gill MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Christopher

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Cheryl Gillan MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Cheryl

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Linda Gilroy MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Linda

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paul Goggins MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paul

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Llin Golding MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Llin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Eileen Gordon MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Eileen

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Teresa Gorman MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Teresa

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

James Gray MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear James

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Dominic Grieve MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Dominic

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jane Griffiths MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jane

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Win Griffiths MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Win

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Bruce Grocott MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Bruce

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Grogan MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Patrick Hall MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Patrick

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Mike Hancock MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Mike

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Hanson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Evan Harris MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Evan

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Alan Haselhurst MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Alan

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Sylvia Heal MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Sylvia

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Healy MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Edward Heath MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Edward

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ivan Henderson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ivan

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Stephrn Hepburn MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Stephrn

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Stephen Hesford MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Stephen

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Margaret Hodge MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Margaret

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Kelvin Hopkins MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Kelvin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Horam MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

George Howarth MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear George

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Kim Howells MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Kim

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Lindsay Hoyle MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Lindsay

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Beverley Hughes MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Beverley

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Simon Hughes MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Simon

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Joan Humble MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Joan

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Hume MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Andrew Hunter MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Andrew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Alan Hurst MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Alan

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Brian Iddon MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Brian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Eric Ilsley MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Eric

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Robert Jackson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Robert

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Bernard Jenkin MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Bernard

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Alan Johnson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Alan

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Barry Jones MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Barry

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Fiona Jones MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Fiona

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ieuan Wyn Jones MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ieuan Wyn

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jenny Jones MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jenny

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Nigel Jones MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Nigel

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Sally Keeble MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Sally

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paul Keetch MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paul

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ruth Kelly MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ruth

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Frasier Kemp MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Frasier

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jane Kennedy MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jane

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Piara Khabra MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Piara

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Kidney MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Oona King MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Oona

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Tom King MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Tom

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ashok Kumar MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ashok

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Andrew Lansley MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Andrew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jackie Lawrence MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jackie

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Edward Leigh MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Edward

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Lepper MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Christopther Leslie MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Christopther

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Oliver Letwin MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Oliver

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Tom Levitt MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Tom

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Martin Linton MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Martin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Richard Livsey MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Richard

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Tony Lloyd MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Tony

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Elfyd Llwyd MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Elfyd

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Lock MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Timothy Loughton MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Timothy

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Andrew Love MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Andrew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Peter Luff MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Peter

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Denis Macshane MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Denis

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Madel MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paul Marsden MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paul

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Stephen Mc Cabe MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Stephen

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Siobhain McDonagh MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Siobhain

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John McDonnell MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Shona McIsaac MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Shona

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Gillian Merron MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Gillian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Austin Mitchell MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Austin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Laura Moffat MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Laura

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Margaret Moran MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Margaret

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Elliot Morley MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Elliot

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paul Murphy MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paul

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Doug Naysmith MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Doug

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Michael O'Brien MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Michael

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

William O'Brien MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear William

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Edward O'Hara MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Edward

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Mark Oaten MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Mark

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

William Olner MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear William

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Lembit Opik MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Lembit

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Diana Organ MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Diana

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ian Pearson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Tom Pendry MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Tom

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Linda Perham MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Linda

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Eric Pickles MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Eric

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Colin Pickthall MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Colin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Peter Pike MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Peter

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

James Plaskitt MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear James

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Kerry Pollard MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Kerry

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Greg Pope MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Greg

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Gordon Prentice MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Gordon

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Gwyn Prosser MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Gwyn

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Bill Rammell MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Bill

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Randall MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Syd Rapson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Syd

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Andy Reed MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Andy

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Laurence Robertson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Laurence

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Andrew Rowe MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Andrew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Joan Ruddock MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Joan

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Bob Russell MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Bob

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Martin Salter MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Martin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jonathon Shaw MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jonathon

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Gillian Shepherd MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Gillian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Debra Shipley MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Debra

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Marsha Singh MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Marsha

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Angela Smith MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Angela

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Jacqui Smith MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Jacqui

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Smith MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Llew Smith MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Llew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Martin Smith MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Martin

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Helen Southworth MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Helen

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Nick St Aubyn MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Nick

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ian Stewart MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Howard Stoate MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Howard

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Graham Stringer MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Graham

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Andrew Stundell MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Andrew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ann Taylor MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ann

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Dari Taylor MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Dari

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ian Taylor MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Mathew Taylor MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Mathew

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Teddy Taylor MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Teddy

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Gareth Thomas MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Gareth

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Gareth Thomas MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Gareth

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Mike Todd MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Mike

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Don Touhig MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Don

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paul Truswell MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paul

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Dennis Turner MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Dennis

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Des Turner MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Des

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Derek Twigg MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Derek

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Stephen Twigg MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Stephen

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Paul Tyler MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Paul

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Rudolph Vis MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Rudolph

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Robert Walter MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Robert

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Claire Ward MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Claire

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Charles Wardle MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Charles

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Robert Wareing MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Robert

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

David Watts MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear David

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Steve Webb MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Steve

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Bowen Wells MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Bowen

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Brian White MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Brian

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Ray Whitney MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Ray

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Malcom Wick MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Malcom

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Dafydd Wigley MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Dafydd

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

John Wilkinson MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear John

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Betty Williams MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Betty

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Phillip Willis MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Phillip

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Rosie Winterton MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Rosie

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Audrey Wise MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Audrey

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Mike Wood MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Mike

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Shaun Woodward MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Shaun

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Anthony Wright MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Anthony

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Tony Wright MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Tony

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs

Derek Wyatt MP
House of Commons
LONDON
SW1A 0AA

19 September 2000

To: All Members of the All Party Parliamentary Group

Dear Derek

NHS National Plan – Patient Empowerment

I am writing to advise you of the latest developments with regard to the Government's proposal to abolish Community Health Councils. Patrick Hall MP will be contacting you again shortly regarding a date for a meeting of the group. I understand that the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Health responsible for CHCs, Gisela Stuart, has agreed to meet with the group.

In the meantime, you may find the following of interest and assistance.

1] I have attached a model press release regarding the abolition of CHCs. It would be helpful if those MPs concerned about the Government's proposals could issue this to local media. If you or your office require further assistance in raising this issue in the media, please contact our Media Officer, Murray Benham on 020 7609 8138.

2] A "four nations" meeting took place last week, involving representatives of CHCs in England and Wales, Health Councils in Scotland and Health and Social Services Councils in Northern Ireland. It was agreed at that meeting that new models for patient empowerment in all parts of the UK must meet the following principles:

- Independence
- People focussed
- National body to co-ordinate and set standards
- Integration
- Service wide
- Statutory rights
- Representative
- Transparency

These criteria reflect the concerns about the National Plan which I raised with you in my previous letter.

3] ACHCEW has continued to develop our views on the Plan. Our concern is to ensure that the public get the best deal in the Health Service, and that any new models incorporate the principles outlined above. We have, as a consequence, begun work on a successor structure to CHCs in their current form, that could deliver the proposals in the National Plan, and meet our current concerns. A chart setting out this skeleton structure is attached for your information.

4] I also attach an electronic copy of the article which appeared in The Guardian setting out our concerns.

I hope that you find this information of assistance. If you would like further Information, or would like to discuss the issues raised, please do not hesitate To get in touch.

Yours sincerely

DONNA COVEY
Director

Encs